Contents

Abhishek Sarkar
Precocity and Performance [1]
Child Characters in Two Shakespeare Plays

Zita Turi
Fasting and Feasting in Hamlet [27]
A Carnivalesque Interpretation

John C. Murray
Refocusing the Gendered Gaze [43]
Role-Playing, Performance, and Multiple-Identity in Defoe’s Moll Flanders

Ana C. Vogrinčič
A Novel between Gossip and a Court Testimony [60]
The Peculiar Case of Benjamin Victor’s Widow of the Wood (1755)

Cristina Chitanu
The Performativity of Literature [73]

Janka Kaščáková
Speaking Silence [93]
in “The Daughters of the Late Colonel”

Ildikó Limpár
Seymour [104]
Key to Salinger’s Philosophy of Composition and Publication

Dominika Oramus
Woman as Alien [117]
Angela Carter’s Heroes and Villains

Ágnes Győrke
Rushdie’s Postmodern Nations [135]

Erika Mihálycsa
(un)Wordward Ho [156]
Decreation and the Voiding of Language in Beckett’s Late Prose Work
László Munteán

[172] Men on Wire
Performing 9/11

Book Reviews

Veronika Rutkay on [195] Shakespeare and the Origins of English
by Neil Rhodes

Katalin Pálinkás on [201] Posthumous Keats: A Personal Biography
by Stanley Plumly

Gabriella Reuss on [205] Socialist Shakespeare Productions in Kádár-regime Hungary:
Shakespeare Behind the Iron Curtain
by Veronika Schandl

Tamás Juhász on [212] Zadie Smith: Critical Essays
edited by Tracey L. Walters

Előd Pál Csirmaz on [215] New Directions in American Reception Study
edited by Philip Goldstein & James L. Machor

Tünde Varga on [222] Aftershock: The Ethics of Contemporary Transgressive Art
by Kieran Cashell

[230] Cumulative list of titles published in The AnaChronisT since 1995

[242] Notes on the Authors

[246] Call for Papers