ACT ONE

Scene One

Music, a lone violin. HESTER SWANE leads the corpse of a black swan after her, leaving a trail of blood in the snow. The GHOST FANCIER stands there watching her.

HESTIER Who are you? Haven't seen you around here before.
GF I'm a ghost fancier.
HESTIER A ghost fancier. Never heard tell of the like.
GF You never seen ghosts?
HESTIER Not exactly, felt what I thought were things from some other world betimes, but nothin' I could grasp onto and say, that is a ghost.
GF Well, where there's ghosts there's ghost fanciers.
HESTIER That so? So what do you do, Mr Ghost Fancier?
Eye up ghosts? Have love affairs with them?
GF Dependin' on the ghost. I've trailed you a while.
What're you doin' draggin' the corpse of a swan behind ya like it was your shadow?
HESTIER This is auld Black Wing. I've known her the longest time. We used play together when I was a young wan. Wance I had to lave the Bog of Cats and when I returned years later this swan here came swoopin' over the bog to welcome me home, came right up to me and kissed me hand. Found her frozen in a bog hole last night, had to rip her from the ice, left half her underbelly.
GF No one ever tell ya it's dangerous to interfere with swans, especially black wans?
HESTIER Only an auld superstition to keep people afraid. I only want to bury her. I can’t be struck down for that, can I?
GF You live in that caravan over there?
HESTER Used to; live up the lane now. In a house, though I’ve never felt at home in it. But you, Mr Ghost Fancier, what ghost are you ghoulin’ for around here?
GF I’m ghoulin’ for a woman be the name of Hester Swane.
HESTER I’m Hester Swane.
GF You couldn’t be, you’re alive.
HESTER I certainly am and aim to stay that way.
GF (Looks around, confused) Is it sunrise or sunset?
HESTER Why do ya want to know?
GF Just tell me.
HESTER It’s that hour when it could be either dawn or dusk, the light bein’ so similar. But it’s dawn, see there’s the sun comin’ up.
GF Then I’m too previous. I mistook this hour for dusk. A thousand apologies.

Goes to exit, HESTER stops him.

HESTER What do ya mean you’re too previous? Who are ya? Really?
GF I’m sorry for intrudin’ upon you like this. It’s not usually my style.

Lifts his hat, walks off.

HESTER (Shouts after him) Come back! — I can’t die — I have a daughter.

MONICA enters.

MONICA What’s wrong of ya, Hester? What are ya shoutin’ at?
HESTER Don’t ya see him?
MONICA Who?
has her heart set on everythin' that's yours.

HESTER If he thinks he can go on treatin' me the way he's been treatin' me, he's another thing comin'. I'm not to be flung aside at his biddin'. He'd be nothin' today if it wasn't for me.

MONICA Sure the whole parish knows that.

HESTER Well, if they do, why're yees all just standin' back and gawkin'. Think yees all Hester Swane with her tinker blood is gettin' no more than she deserves. Think yees all she's too many notions, built her life up from a caravan on the side of the bog. Think yees all she's taken a step above herself in gettin' Carthage Kilbridge into her bed. Think yees all yees knew it'd never last. Well, yees are thinkin' wrong. Carthage Kilbridge is mine for always or until I say he is no longer mine. I'm the one who chooses and discards, not him, and certainly not any of yees. And I'm not runnin' with me nay between me legs just because certain people wants me out of their way.

MONICA You're angry now and not thinkin' straight.

HESTER If he'd only come back, we'd be alright, if I could just have him for a few days on me own with no wan stickin' their nose in.

MONICA Hester, he's gone from ya and he's not comin' back.

HESTER Ah you think ya know everythin' about me and Carthage. Well, ya don't. There's things about me and Carthage no wan knows except the two of us. And I'm not talkin' about love. Love is for fools and children. Our bond is harder, like two rocks we are, grindin' off of wan another and maybe all the closer for that.

MONICA That's all in your own head, the man cares nothin' for ya, else why would he go on the way he does.

HESTER My life doesn't hang together without him.

MONICA You're talkin' riddles now.

HESTER Carthage knows what I'm talkin' about — I suppose I may bury auld Black Wing before Josie wakes and sees her.

Begins walking off.

MONICA I'll come up to see ya in a while, bring yees up some lunch, help ya pack.

HESTER There'll be no packin' done around here.

And exit both in opposite directions.
Scene Two

The sound of a child's voice comes from the house. She enters after a while, JOSIE KILBRIDE, seven, barefoot, pyjamas, kicking the snow, singing.

JOSIE

By the Bog of Cats I dreamed a dream of wooing. I heard your clear voice to me a-calling.
That I must go though it be my undoing.
By the Bog of Cats I'll stay no more a-roving —

Mam — Mam — (Continues playing in the snow, singing)

To the Bog of Cats I one day will return,
In mortal form or in ghostly form,
And I will find you there and there with you sojourn,
Forever by the Bog of Cats, my darling one.

MRS KILBRIDE has entered, logged up against the biting cold, a shawl over her face.

MRS K

Well, good mornin', ya little wagon of a girl child.

JOSIE

Mornin' yourself, y'auld wagon of a Granny witch.

MRS K

Iould ya not to call me Granny.

JOSIE

Grandmother — Did ya see me Mam, did ya?

MRS K

Aye, seen her whooshin' by on her broom half an hour back.

JOSIE

Did yees crash?

MRS K

Get in, ya pup, and put on some clothes before Jack Frost ates your toes for breakfast. Get in till I dress ya.

JOSIE

I know how to dress meself.

MRS K

Then dress yourself and stop braggin' about it. Get in. Get in.

And exit the pair to the house.

Scene Three

HESTER by the caravan. She digs a grave for the swan. Enter the CATWOMAN, a woman in her late fifties, stained a strancy brown from the bog, a coat of cat fur that reaches to the ground, studded with cat's teeth and cat paws. She is blind and carries a stick.

CATWOMAN

What're ya doin' there?

HESTER

None of your business now, Catwoman.

CATWOMAN

You're buryin' auld Black Wing, aren't ya?

HESTER

How d'ya know?

CATWOMAN

I know everythin' that happens on this bog. I'm the Keeper of the Bog of Cats in case ya forgotten? I own this bog.

HESTER

Ya own nothin', Catwoman, except your little house of turf and your hundred odd mousetraps and anythin' ya can rob and I'm missin' a garden chair so ya better bring it back.

CATWOMAN

I only took it because ya won't be needin' it anymore.

HESTER

Won't I? If ya don't bring it back I'll have to go down meself and maybe knock your little turf house down.

CATWOMAN

You just dare.

HESTER

I'll bring down diesel, burn ya out.

Alright! Alright! I'll bring back your garden chair, fierce uncomfortable anyway, not wan of the cats'd sleep on it. Here, give her to me a minute, auld Black Wing.

HESTER does.

She came to my door last night and tapped on it as she often did, only last night she wouldn't come in. I bent down and she puts her wing on me cheek and I knew this was farewell. Then I heard her tired auld wingbeat, shaky and off kilter and then the thud of her fallin' out of the sky onto the ice. She must've died on the wing or soon after. (Kisses the black swan) Goodbye, auld thing, and safe journey. Here, put her in the ground.

HESTER does and begins shovelling in clay. CATWOMAN stands there leaning on her stick, produces a mouse from her pocket.

CATWOMAN A saucer of milk there, Hester Swane.

HESTER I've no milk here today. You may go up to the house for your saucer of milk and, I told ya, I don't want ya pawin' mice around me, dirty auld yokes, full of diseases.

CATWOMAN And you aren't, you clean as the snow, Hester Swane?

HESTER Did I say I was?

CATWOMAN I knew your mother, I helped her bring ya into the world, knew ya when ya were chained like a rabid pup to this auld caravan, so don't you look down on me for handlin' a mouse or two.

HESTER If ya could just see yourself and the mouse fur growin' out of your teeth. Disgustin'!

CATWOMAN I need mice the way you need whiskey.

HESTER Ah, go on and leave me alone, Catwoman, I'm in no mood for ya today.

CATWOMAN Bet ya aren't. I had a dream about ya last night.

HESTER Spare me your visions and dreams, enough of me own to deal with.

CATWOMAN Dreamt ya were a black train motorin' through the Bog of Cats and, oh, the scorch off this train and it blastin' by and all the bog was dark in your wake, ya even quenched the jack-a-'lantern and I had to run from the burn. Hester Swane, you'll bring this place down by evenin'.

HESTER I know.

CATWOMAN Do ya know? Then why don't ya leave? If ya leave this place you'll be alright. That's what I came by to tell ya.

HESTER Ah, how can I leave the Bog of Cats, everythin' I'm connected to is here. I'd rather die.

Then die ya will.

There's sympathy for ya! That's just what I need to hear.

CATWOMAN Ya want sugar plum platitudes, go talk to Monica Murray or anyone else around here. You're my match in witchery, Hester, same as your mother was, it may even be ya surpass us both and the way ya go on as if God only gave ya a little frog of a brain instead of the gift of seein' things as they are, not as they should be, but exactly as they are. Ya know what I think?

What?

CATWOMAN I been thinkin' a while now that there's some fierce wrong ya done that's caught up with ya.

What fierce wrong?

HESTER Don't you by talk me, I'm the Catwoman. I know things. Now I can't say I know the exact wrong ya done but I'd put a bet on it's somethin' serious judgin' by the way ya go on.

And what way do I go on?

What was it ya done, Hester?

HESTER I done nothin' — Or if I did I never meant to.

CATWOMAN There's a fine answer, a half a lie and a half a truth.

HESTER Everywan has done wrong at wan time or another.

CATWOMAN Aye, but not everywan knows the price of wrong. You do and it's the best thing about ya and there's not much in ya I'd praise. No, most manage to stay a step or two ahead of the pigsty truth of themselves, not you though.

HESTER Ah, would ya give over. Ya lap up people's fears, you've too much time on your own, concoctin' stories about others. Go way and kill a few mice for your dinner, only leave me alone — Or tell me about me mother, for what I remember doesn't add up.

What ya want to know about big Josie Swane?

CATWOMAN Everythin'.

HESTER Well, what ya remember?
HESTER  Only small things — Like her pausing.
CATWOMAN  She was a great woman for the pausing.
HESTER  'G'wan to bed, you,' she'd say, 'I'll just be here pausing.' And I'd watch her from the window. (Indicates window of catwoman) Times she'd smoke a cigar which she had her own particular way of doin'. She'd heould it stretched away from her hand, instead of takin' the cigar to her mouth, she'd bring her mouth to the cigar. And her all the time pausing. What was she waitin' for, Catwoman? And did she ever find it?
CATWOMAN  Ya'd often hear her voice comin' over the bog all night. She was the greatest song stitcher ever to have passed through this place and we've had plenty pass through but none like Josie Swane. But somewhere along the way she stopped weavin' their songs and became small and bitter and mealy. By the time she ran off and left ya I couldn't abide her.
HESTER  There's a longin' in me for her that won't quell this while gone.
CATWOMAN  I wouldn't long for Josie Swane if I was you. Sure the night ya were born she took ya over to the black swan's lair, auld Black Wing ya've just buried there, and laid ya in the nest alongside her. And when I axed her why she'd do a thing like that with snow and ice everywhere, ya know what she says, Swane means swan. That may be so, says I, but the child'll die of pneumonia. That child, says Josie Swane, will live as long as this black swan, not a day more, nor a day less. And each night for three nights she left ya in the black swan's lair and each night I snuck ya out of the lair and took ya home with me and brung ya back to the lair before she'd come lookin' for ya in the mornin'. That's when I started to turn again' her.
HESTER  You're makin' it up to get rid of me like everywan else round here. Xavier Cassidy put ya up to this.
CATWOMAN  Xavier Cassidy put me up to nothin'. I'm only tellin' ya so ya know what sort of a woman your mother was. Ya were lucky she left ya. Just forget about her and live this place now or ya never will. Doesn't seem to make much difference whether I stay or live with a curse like that on me head.
HESTER  There's ways round curses. Curses only have the power ya allow them. I'm tellin' ya, Hester, ya have to go. When have I ever been proved wrong? Tould ya ya'd have just the wan daughter, tould ya the day and hour she'd be born, didn't I now?
CATWOMAN  Ya did alright.
HESTER  Tould ya Cathrage Kilbride was no good for ya, never grew his backbone, would ya listen? Tould Monica Murray to stop her only son drivin' to the city that night. Would she listen? Where's her son? In his grave, that's where he is. Begged her till she ran me off with a kittle of bilin' water. Mayhap she wanted him dead. I'll say nothin'. Gave auld Xavier Cassidy herbs to cure his wife. What did he do? Pegged them down the tilet and took Olive Cassidy to see some swanky medicine man in a private hospital. They cured her alright, cured her so well she came back cured as a side of ham in an oak coffin with golden handles. Maybe he wanted her dead too. There's many gets into brown studies over burynin' their loved wans. That a fact, Hester Swane. I'll be off now and don't say the Catwoman never tould ya. Live this place now or ya never will.
HESTER  I'm stoppin' here.
CATWOMAN  Sure I know that too. Seen it writ in a bog hole.
HESTER  Is there anythin' them blind eyes doesn't see writ in a bog hole?
CATWOMAN  Sneer away. Ya know what the Catwoman says is true, but sneer away and we'll see will that sneer be on your puss at dusk. Remember the Catwoman then for I don't think I'll have the stomach for this place tonight.

And exit the CATWOMAN and exit HESTER.
Scene Four

Josie and Mrs Kilbride enter and sit at the garden table as the Catwoman and Hester exit. Josie is dressed: wellingtons, trousers jumper on inside out. They’re playing Snap. Mrs Kilbride plays ruthlessly, loves to win. Josie looks on in dismay.

Mrs K Snap — snap! Snap! (Stacking the cards) How many games is that I’m after winnin’ ya?
Josie Five.
Mrs K And how many did you win?
Josie Ya know right well I won no’er a game.
Mrs K And do ya know why ya won no’er a game, Josie? Because you’re thick, that’s the why.
Josie I always win when I play me Mam.
Mrs K That’s only because your Mam is thicker than you. Thick and stubborn and dangerous wrong-headed and backwards to top it all. Are ya goin’ to start cryin’ now, ya little pussy babby, don’t you dare cry, ya need to toughen up, child, what age are ya now? — I says what age are ya?
Josie Seven.
Mrs K Seven auld years. When I was seven I was cookin’ dinners for a houseful of men, I was thinin’ turnips twelve hour a day, I was birthin’ calves, sowin’ corn, stockin’ hay, ladin’ a bull be his nose, and you can’t even win a game of Snap. Sit up straight or ya’ll grow up a hunchback. Would ya like that, would ya, to grow up a hunchback? Ya’d be like an auld camel and everyone’d say, you loped by, there goes Josie Kilbride the hunchback, would ya like that, would ya? Answer me.
Josie Ya know right well I wouldn’t, Granny.
Mrs K What did I tell ya about callin’ me Grandmother.
Josie (Definitely) Granny.
Mrs K (Leans over the table viciously) Grandmother! Say ill.
Josie (Givin’ in) Grandmother.
Mrs K And you’re lucky I even let ya call me that. Ya want another game?
Josie Only if ya don’t cheat.
Mrs K When did I cheat?
Josie I seen ya, loads of times.
Mrs K A bad loser’s all you are, Josie, and there’s nothin’ meaner than a bad loser. I never cheat. Never. D’ya hear me, do ya? Look me in the eye when I’m talkin’ to ya, ya little bastard. D’ya want another game?
Josie No thanks, Grandmother.
Mrs K And why don’t ya? Because ya know I’ll win, isn’t that it? Ya little coward ya, I’ll break your spirit yet and then glue ya back the way I want ya. I bet ya can’t even spell your name.
Josie And I bet ya I can.
Mrs K G’wan then, spell it.
Josie ( Spells) J-o-s-i-e K-i-l-b-r-i-d-e.
Mrs K Wrong! Wrong! Wrong!
Josie Well, that’s the way Teacher taught me.
Mrs K Are you back-answerin’ me?
Josie No, Grandmother.
Mrs K Ya got some of it right. Ya got the ‘Josie’ part right, but ya got the ‘Kilbride’ part wrong, because you’re not a Kilbride. You’re a Swane. Can ya spell Swane? Of course ya can’t. You’re Hester Swane’s little bastard. You’re not a Kilbride and never will be.
Josie I’m tellin’ Daddy what ya said.
Mrs K Tell him! Ya won’t be tellin’ him anythin’ I haven’t told him meself. He’s an eegit, your Daddy. I warned him about that wan, Hester Swane, that she’d get her claws in, and she did, the tinker. That’s what yeys are, tinkers. And your poor Daddy, all he’s had to put up with. Well, at least that’s all changin’ now. Why don’t yeys head off in that auld caravan, back to wherever yeys came from, and give your poor Daddy back to me where he rightfully belongs. And you’ve your jumper on backwards.
JOSIE It's not backwards, it's inside out.
MRS K Don't you check me — and tell me this, Josie Swane, how much has your Mam in the bank?
JOSIE I don't know.
MRS K I'll tell ya how much, a great big goose egg! Useless, that's what she is, livin' off of handouts from my son that she fiddles away on whiskey and cigars, the Jezebel witch. (Smugly) Guess how much I've saved, Josie, g'wan, guess, guess.
JOSIE I wish if me Mam'd come soon.
MRS K Ah g'wan, child, guess.
JOSIE Ten pound.
MRS K (Hysterical) Ten pound! A' ya mad, child? A' ya mad! Ten pound! (Whispers petulantly) Three thousand pound. All mine. I saved it. I didn't fiddle it away on crinoline, crinoline. I saved it. A thousand for me funeral, a thousand for the Little Sisters of the Poor and a thousand for your Daddy. I'm givin' you nothin' because your mother would get hold of it. And d'ya think would I get any thanks for savin' all that money? Oh no, none in the world. Would it ever occur to anybody to say, well done, Mrs Kilbride, well done, Eliza. How many did your Daddy ever say, well done, Mother, no, too busy fornacitating with Hester Swane, too busy bringin' little bastards like yourselves into the world.
JOSIE Can I go and play now?
MRS K Here, I brung ya sweets, g'wan ate them, ate them all, there's a great child, ya need some sugar, some sweetie pie sweetness in your life. C'mere and give your auld Grandmother a kiss. (JOSIE does) Sure it's not your fault ya were born a little girl bastard. D'ya want another game of Snap? I'll let ya win.
JOSIE No.
MRS K Don't you worry, child, we'll get ya off of her yet. Me and your Daddy has plans. We'll batter ya into the semblance of legitimacy yet, soon as we get ya off —

Enter CARTHAGE.

CARTHAGE I don't know how many times I tould ya to lave the child alone. You've her poisoned with your bile and rage.
MRS K I'm sayin' nothin' that isn't true. Can't I play a game of Snap with me own granddaughter?
CARTHAGE Ya know I don't want ya around here at the minute. G'wan home, Mother, g'wan.
MRS K And do what? Talk to the range? Growl at God?
CARTHAGE Do whatever ya like, only lave Josie alone, pick on some wan your own size. (Turning Josie's jumper the right way around) You'll have to learn to dress yourself.
MRS K Ah now, Carthage, don't be annoyed with me. I only came up to say goodbye to her, found her in her pyjamas out here playin' in the snow. Why isn't her mother mindin' her?
CARTHAGE Don't start in on that again.
MRS K I never left you on your own.
CARTHAGE Ya should have.
MRS K And ya never called in to see the new dress I got for today and ya promised ya would. (CARTHAGE glares at her) Alright, I'm goin', I'm goin'. Just don't think you've got Caroline Cassidy ya can do away with me, the same as you're doin' away with Hester Swane. I'm your mother and I won't be goin' away. Ever.

And exit MRS KILBRIDE.

CARTHAGE Where's your Mam?
JOSIE Isn't she always on the bog? Can I go to your weddin'?
CARTHAGE What does your mother say?
JOSIE She says there'll be no weddin' and to stop annoyin' her.
CARTHAGE Does she now?
JOSIE Will you ax her for me?
CARThAGE We'll see, Josie, we'll see.

JOSIE I'll wear me Communion dress. Remember me Communion, Daddy?

CARThAGE I do.

JOSIE Wasn't it just a brilliant day?

CARThAGE It was, sweetheart, it was. Come on we go check the calves.

And exit the pair.

Scene Five

CAROLINE CASSIDY in her wedding dress and veil. Twenty, beautifully looking and nervous. She goes to the window of Hester's house and knocks.

CAROLINE Hester — are ya there?

HESTEr comes up behind her.

HESTEr Haven't you the gall comin' here, Caroline Cassidy.

CAROLINE (Jumps with fright) Oh! (Recover) Can come here whenever I want, this is my house now, sure ya signed it over and all.

HESTEr Bits of paper, writin', means nothin', can as aisy be unsigned.

CAROLINE You're meant to be gone this weeks, it's just not fair.

HESTEr Lots of things isn't fair, Daddy's little ice-pop.

CAROLINE We're goin' ahead with the weddin', me and Carthage, ya think ya'll disrupt everythin', Hester Swane. I'm not afraid of ya.

HESTEr Ya should be. I'm afraid of meself — What is it ya want from me, Caroline? What have I ever done on you that ya feel the need to take everythin' from me?

CAROLINE I'm takin' nothin' ya haven't lost already and lost this long while gone.

HESTEr You're takin' me husband, you're takin' me house, ya even want me daughter. Over my dead body.

CAROLINE He was never your husband, he only took pity on ya, took ya out of that auld caravan on the bog, gave ya a home, built ya up from nothin'.

HESTEr Them the sweet nothin's he's been tellin' ya? Let's get wan thing straight, it was me built Carthage Kilbride up from nothin', him a labourer's son you wouldn't give the time of day to and you trottin' by in your first bra, on your half-bred mare, your nose nudgin' the sun. It was me who tould him he could do better. It was my money that bought his first fine acres. It was in my bed he slowly turned from a slavish pup to a man and no frigid little Daddy's girl is goin' to take him from me. Now get off of my property before I cut that dress to ribbons.

CAROLINE I'll have to get Daddy. He'll run ya off with a shotgun if he has to.

HESTER Not everyone is as afraid of your Daddy as you are, Caroline.

CAROLINE Look, I'll give ya more money if ya'll only go. Here's me bank book, there's nearly nineteen thousand pounds in it, me inheritance from me mother. Daddy gave it to me this mornin'. Ya can have it, only please go. It's me weddin' day. I've meant to be happy. It's meant to be the best day of me life.

She stands there, close to tears. HESTER goes over to her, touches her veil.

HESTER What ya want me to do, Caroline? Admire your dress? Wish ya well? Hah? I used babysit you. Remember that?

CAROLINE That was a long time ago.

HESTER Not that long at all. After your mother died, several nights ya came down and slept with me. Ya were glad of the auld caravan then, when your Daddy'd be off at the races or the mart or the pub, remember that, do ya? A pasty little thing, and I'd be awake half the night listenin' to your girly gibberish and grievances. Listen to me now, Caroline, there's two Hester Swanes, one that is decent and very fond of ya despite your callow treatment of me. And the other Hester, well, she could slide a knife down your face, carve ya up and not bat an eyelid.

Crabs her hair suddenly and viciously —

HESTER Ow! Lave go!

CAROLINE Listen to me now, Caroline. Carthage Kilbride is mine and only mine. He's been mine since he was sixteen. You think ya can take him from me?

HESTER Wrong. All wrong. (Lets go of her) Now get out of me sight.

CAROLINE Ya'll be sorry for this, Hester Swane.

HESTER We all will.

And exit CAROLINE, running.
Scene Six

HESTER lights a cigar; sits at her garden table. Enter JOSIE with an old shawl around her head and a pair of high heels. She is pretending to be her Granny.

JOSIE Well good mornin’, Tinker Swane.
HESTER (Mock surprise) Oh, good mornin’, Mrs Kilbride. What a lovely surprise, and how are ya today?
JOSIE I’ve been savin’ all night.
HESTER Have ya now, Mrs Kilbride.
JOSIE Tell me, ya Jezebel witch, how much have ya in the bank today?
HESTER Oh, I’ve three great big goose eggs, Mrs Kilbride. How much have ya in the bank yourself?
JOSIE Seventeen million pound. Seventeen million pound. I saved it. I didn’t frig it away on fine stories and silk stockings. I cut back on sugar and I cut back on flour. I drank biled socks instead of tea and in waneight I saved seventeen million pound.
HESTER Ya drank biled socks, Mrs Kilbride?
JOSIE I did and I had turf stew for me dinner and for dessert I had small tart and a big mug of weewee.
HESTER Sounds delicious, Mrs Kilbride.
JOSIE Ya wouldn’t get better in Buckin’am Palace.
HESTER Josie, don’t ever say any of that in front of your Granny, sure ya won’?
JOSIE I’m not a total egeois, Mam.
HESTER Did ya have your breakfast?
JOSIE I had a sugar smammie.
HESTER Ya better not have.
JOSIE Granny made me disgustin’ porridge.
HESTER Did she? Did ya wash your teeth?
JOSIE Why do I always have to wash me teeth? Every day, it’s so borin’. What do I need teeth for anyway?
HESTER Ya need them for snarlin’ at people when smilin’.

doesn’t work anymore. G’wan in and wash them now.

Enter CARTHAGE in his wedding suit. HESTER looks at him, looks away.

JOSIE Did ya count the cattle, Daddy?
CARTHAGE I did.
JOSIE Were they all there?
CARTHAGE They were, Josie.
JOSIE Daddy says I can go to his weddin’.
CARTHAGE I said maybe, Josie.
HESTER G’wan round the back and play, Josie.
JOSIE Can I go, Mam, can I? Say yeah, g’wan, say yeah.
HESTER We’ll see, g’wan, Josie, g’wan, good girl.

And exit Josie. They both watch her. Silence.

CARTHAGE I’d like to know what ya think you’re playin’ at.
HESTER Take a better man than you to cancel me out, Carthage Kilbride.
CARTHAGE Ya haven’t even started packin’.
HESTER Them your weddin’ clothes?
CARTHAGE They’re not me farm clothes, are they?
HESTER Ya’ve a cheek comin’ here in them.
CARTHAGE Well, you missus, are meant to be gone.
HESTER And ya’ve a nerve tellin’ Josie she can go to your weddin’.
CARTHAGE She’s mine as well as yours.
HESTER Have ya slept with her yet?
CARTHAGE That’s none of your business.
HESTER Every bit of me business. Ya think ya can wipe out fourteen years just like that. Well she’s welcome to ya and any satisfaction she can squeeze out of ya.
CARTHAGE Never heard ya complainin’ when I was in your bed.
HESTER Ya done the job, I suppose, in a kindergarten sort of way.
CARTHAGE Kindergarten, that what ya call it?
HESTER  You were nothin' before I put me stamp on ya and ya'll be nothin' again I'm finished with ya.

CARTHAGE  Are you threatenin' me, Hetty? Because, if ya ain't ya better know who you're dealin' with, not the sixteen year auld fool snappin' hares along the Bog of Cats who fell into your clutches.

HESTER  It was you wooed me, Carthage Kilbride, not the other way round as ya'd like every wan to think. In the beginnin' I wanted nothin' to do with ya, should've trusted me first instinct, but ya kept comin' back. You cut your teeth on me, Carthage Kilbride, gnawed and sucked till all that's left is an auld bone ya think to fling on the dunghill now you've no more use for me. If you think I'm goin' to let you walk over me like that, ya don't know me at all.

CARTHAGE  That at least is true. I've watched ya now for the best part of fourteen years and I can't say for sure I know the first thing about ya. Who are ya and what sort of stuff are ya made of?

HESTER  The same as you and I can't abide to lose ya. Don't love me. Don't — is it I've gotten old and you just hittin' thirty?

CARTHAGE  Ya know right well it isn't that.

HESTER  And I haven't had a drink since the night ya left.

CARTHAGE  I know.

HESTER  I only ever drank anyway to forget about —

CARTHAGE  I don't want to talk about that. Love it.

HESTER  And still ya took the money and bought the land, the Kilbrides who never owned anythin' till I came along, tinker and all. Tell me what to do, Carthage, and I'll do it, anythin' for you to come back.

CARTHAGE  Just stop, will ya —

HESTER  Anythin', Carthage, anythin', and I'll do it if it's in me power.

CARTHAGE  It's not in your power — Look, I'm up to me neck in another life that can't include ya anymore.

HESTER  You're sellin' me and Josie down the river for a few lumpy auld acres and notions of respectability and I never thought ya would. You're better than all of them. Why must ya always look for the good opinion from them that'll never give it. Ya'll only ever be Xavier Cassidy's work horse. He won't treat ya right. He wouldn't know how.

CARTHAGE  He's treatin' me fine, signin' his farm over to me this evenin'.

HESTER  Ya know what they're sayin' about ya? That you're a jumped-up land-hungry mongrel but that Xavier Cassidy is greedier and craftier and he'll spanced ya back to the scrubber ya are.

CARTHAGE  And ya know what they're sayin' about you? That it's time ya moved onto another haltin' site.

HESTER  I was born on the Bog of Cats and on the Bog of Cats I'll end me days. I've as much right to this place as any of yees, more, for it holds me to it in ways it has never held yees. And as for me tinker blood, I'm proud of it. It gives me an edge over all of yees around her, allows me see yees for the inbred, underbred, bog-brained shower yees are. I'm warnin' ya now, Carthage, you go through with this sham weddin' and you'll never see Josie again.

CARTHAGE  If I have to mow ya down or have ya declared an unfit mother to see Josie I will, so for your own sake don't cause any trouble in that department. Look, Hetty, I want Josie to do well in the world, she'll get her share of everythin' I own and will own. I want her to have a chance in life, a chance you never had and so can never understand —

HESTER  Don't tell me what I can and can't understand!

CARTHAGE  Well understand this. Ya'll not separate me and Josie or I'll have her taken off of ya. I only have to mention your drinkin' or your night roamin' or the way ya sleep in that dirty auld caravan and have Josie alone in the house.

HESTER  I always take Josie to the caravan when I sleep there.

CARTHAGE  Ya didn't take her last night.
HESTER I wasn't in the caravan last night. I was walkin' the bog, but I checked on her three, four times.

CARTHAGE Just don't cross me with Josie because I don't want to have to take her of ya, I know she's attached to ya, and I'm not a monster. Just don't cross me over her or I'll come down on ya like a bull from heaven.

HESTER So I'm meant to lie back and let Caroline Cassidy have her way in the rearin' of me child. I'm meant to love her around Xavier Cassidy — sure he's capable of anythin'. If it's the last thing I do I'll find a way to keep her from ya.

CARTHAGE I want you out of here before dusk! And I've put it to ya now about Josie. Think it over when ya've calmed down. And here. (Producing envelope) There's your blood money. It's all there down to the last penny.

HESTER No! I don't want it!

CARTHAGE (throws it in the snow) Neither do I. I never should've took it in the first place. I owe ya nothin' now, Hester Swane. Nothin'. Ya've no hold over me now.

Goes to exit.

HESTER Carthage — ya can't just walk away like this.

CARTHAGE I can and I am — Ya know what amazes me, Hetty?

HESTER What?

CARTHAGE That I stayed with ya so long — I want peace, just peace — Remember, before dusk.

And exit CARTHAGE. HESTER looks after him, a low heartbroken wail. JOSIE comes running on.

JOSIE What's wrong of ya, Mam?

HESTER Ah go 'way, would ya, and lave me alone.

JOSIE Can I go down to Daly's and buy sweets?

HESTER No, ya can't. Go on off and play, you're far too demandin'.

JOSIE Yeah well, just because you're in a bad humour it's not my fault. I'm fed up playin' on me own.

HESTER You'll get a clatter if you're not careful. I played on me own when I was your age, I never bothered me mother, you're spoilt rotten, that's what ya are. (In a gentler tone) G'wan and play with your dolls, give them a bath, cut their hair.

JOSIE Ya said I wasn't to cut their hair.

HESTER Well now I'm sayin' ya can, alright.

JOSIE But it won't grow back.

HESTER So! There's worse things in this world than your dolls' hair not growin' back, believe me, Josie Swane.

JOSIE Me name is Josie Kilbride.

HESTER That's what I said.

JOSIE Ya didn't, ya said Josie Swane. I'm not a Swane. I'm a Kilbride.

HESTER I suppose you're ashamed of me too.

Enter XAVIER CASSIDY and CAROLINE, both in their wedding clothes.

JOSIE Caroline, your dress, is that your weddin' dress? It's beautiful.

CAROLINE Hello Josie.

JOSIE runs over to CAROLINE to touch her dress. HESTER stormy after her, picks her up roughly, carries her to corner of the house. Puts her down.

HESTER Now stay around the back.

And exit JOSIE.

XAVIER Was hopin' I wouldn't find ya still here, Swane.

HESTER So ya came back with your Daddy, ya know nothin', Caroline, nothin'.

36
Sits at her garden table, produces a nippin of whiskey from her pocket, drinks.

XAVIER Thought ya’d given up the drink.

HESTER I had. Me first in months, but why should I try and explain meself to you?

XAVIER Might interest Carthage to know you lashin’ into a nippin of whiskey at this hour.

HESTER Carthage. If it wasn’t for you, me and Carthage’d be fine. Should’ve eradicated ya, Cassidy, when I could’ve. God’s punishin’ me now because I didn’t take steps that were right and proper concernin’ you. Aye. God’s punishin’ me but I won’t take his blows lyin’ down.

CAROLINE What are ya talking about, Hester?

HESTER What am I talkin’ about? I’m talkin’ about you, ya little fool, and I’m talkin’ about James.

CAROLINE Me brother James?

XAVIER You keep a civil tongue, Swane, over things ya know nothin’ about.

HESTER Oh, but I do know things, and that’s why ya want me out of here. It’s only your land and money and people’s fear of ya that has ya walkin’ free. Gwan home and do whatever it is ya do with your daughter, but keep your sleazy eyes of me and Josie. This is my property and I’ve a right to sit in me own yard without bein’ ogled by the likes of you.

XAVIER There’s things softer on the eye than you, Swane, if it’s oglin’ I was after. This is no longer your property and well ya know it, ya signed it over six months ago, for a fine hefty sum, have the papers here.

HESTER I wasn’t thinkin’ right then, was bein’ coerced and bullied from all sides, but I have regained me pride and it tells me I’m stayin’. Ya’ll get your money back.

Picks up envelope CARTHAGE has thrown in the snow

Here’s some of it.

XAVIER I’m not takin’ it. A deal’s a deal.

HESTER Take it! Take it! (Stuffs it into his breast pocket) And it might interest ya to know, Caroline, that Carthage was just here in his weddin’ clothes and he didn’t look like no radiant groom and he axed me to take him back, but I said —

XAVIER I’d say he did alright —

HESTER He did! He did! Or as much as, but I said I couldn’t be played with anymore, that I was made for things he has lost the power to offer. And I was. I was made for somethin’ different than these butchery lives yees all lead here on the Bog of Cats. Me mother taught me that.

XAVIER Your mother. Your mother taught ya nothin’, Swane, except maybe how to use a knife. Let me tell ya a thing or two about your mother, big Josie Swane. I used see her outside her nul’ caravan on the bog and the fields covered over in stars and her half covered in an excuse for a dress and her croonin’ towards Orion in a language I never heard before or since. We’d peace when she left.

HESTER And what were ya doin’ watchin’ her? Catwoman toold me ya were in a constant swoon over me mother, sniffin’ round the caravan, lavin’ little presents and Christmas dinners and money and drink, sure I remember the gatch of ya meself and ya scrapin’ at the door.

XAVIER Very presumptuous of ya, Swane, to think I’d have any interest in your mother beyond Christian compassion.

HESTER Christian compassion! That what it’s called these days!

XAVIER Aye, Christian compassion, a thing that was never bet into you. Ya say ya remember lots of things, then maybe ya remember that that food and money I used in the was left so ya wouldn’t starve. Times I’d walk by that caravan and there’d be ne’er a sign of this mother of yours. She’d go off for days with anywan who'd buy her a drink. She'd be off in the bars of Pullagh and Mucklagh gettin' into fights. Wance she bit the nose off a woman who dared to look at her man, bit the nose clean off her face. And you, you'd be chained to the door of the caravan with maybe a dirty nappy on ya if ya were lucky. Often times —

HESTER

Lies! All lies!

XAVIER

Often times I brung ya home and gave ya over to me mother to put some clothes on ya and feed ya. More times than I can remember it'd be from our house your mother would collect ya, the brazen walk of her, and not a thank you or a flicker of guilt in her eye and her reekin' of drink. Times she wouldn't even bother to collect ya and meself of course me mother would have to bring ya down to her and she'd hardly notice that we'd come and gone or that you'd returned.

HESTER

Ya expect me to believe anythin' that comes from your siled lips, Xavier Cassidy.

XAVIER

And wan other thing, Swaney, for you to cast aspersions on me just because I'm an auld widower, that's cheap and low. Not everywan sees the world through your troubled eyes. There's such a thing as a father lovin' his daughter as a father should, no more, no less, somethin' you've never known, and I will —

HESTER

I had a father too! Ya'd swear I was dropped from the sky the way ya go on. Jack Swane of Bergil's Island, I never knew him — but I had a father. I'm as settled as any of yees —

XAVIER

Well, he wasn't much of a father, never claimin' ya when your mother ran off.

HESTER

He claimed me in the end —

XAVIER

Look, Swaney, I don't care about your family or where ya came from. I care only about me own and all I've left is Caroline and if I have to plough through you to have the best for her, then that's what I'll do. I don't want to unless I have to. So don't try to make me your fool. I've grown in me life! It's the aisy way for all of us. Lave this place today.

HESTER

Takes envelope from breast pocket, puts it into her hand.

CAROLINE

Ya heard what Daddy says. Ya don't know his temper, Hester.

HESTER

And you don't know mine.

XAVIER

And exit XAVIER followed by CAROLINE. HESTER sits at her garden table, has a drink, looks up at the cold winter sky.

(A whisper) Dear God on high, what have ya in store for me at all?

JOSIE

Enter JOSIE in her Communion dress, veil, buckled shoes, handbag, the works.

(Looks at her a minute) What are ya doin' in your Communion dress?

JOSIE

For Daddy's weddin'. I'm grown out of all me other dresses.

HESTER

I don't think ya are.

JOSIE

I am. I can go, can't I, Mam?

HESTER

Ya have her eyes.

JOSIE

Whose eyes — whose eyes, Mam?

HESTER

Josie Swanes', me mother.

JOSIE

Granny said me real name is Josie Swane.

HESTER

Don't mind your Granny.

JOSIE

Did ya like her, Josie Swane?

HESTER

— More than anythin' in this cold white world.

JOSIE

More than me and Daddy?

HESTER

I'm talkin' about when I was your age. Ya weren't born then, Josie — Ya know the last time I saw me mother I was wearin' me Communion dress too, down by the caravan, a beautiful summer's night and the bog like a furnace. I wouldn't go to bed though she kept tellin' me to. I don't know why I wouldn't. I always done what she told me. I think now — maybe I knew. And she says, I'm goin' walkin' the bog, you're to stay here, Hetty. And I says, No, I'd go along with her, and made a fool of her. And she says, No, Hetty, you wait here. I'll be back in a while. And again I made to follow her and again she stopped me. And I watched her walk away from me across the Bog of Cats. And across the Bog of Cats I'll watch her return.

Lights down. End of Act One.

ACT TWO

interior of Xavier Cassidy's house. A long table covered in a white tablecloth, laid for the wedding feast. Music off, a band setting up.
The Catwoman sits at centre table lapping wine from a saucer. A Waiter, a lanky, gawky young fellow hovers with a bottle of wine wanting to refill the saucer.

WAITER You're sure now ya wouldn't like a glass, Catwoman?

CATWOMAN No, no, I love the saucer, young man. What's your name? Do I know ya?

WAITER I'm a Dunne.

CATWOMAN Wan of the long Dunnes or wan of the scotty fat legged Dunnes?

WAITER Wan of the long Dunnes. Ya want a refill, Catwoman?

CATWOMAN I will. Are ya still in school? Your voice sounds as if it's just breakin'.

WAITER I am.

CATWOMAN And what's ya goin' to be when ya grow up, young Long Dunne?

WAITER I want to be an astronaut but me father wants me to work on the bog like him and like me grandfather. The Dunnes has always worked on the bog.

CATWOMAN Oh go for the astronaut, young man.

WAITER I will so, Catwoman. Have ya enough wine?

CATWOMAN Plenty for now.

Exit young Dunne crossed by the ghost of Joseph Swane, entering; blood-stained shirt and trousers, a throat wound. He walks across the stage. Catwoman cocks her ear, starts sniffing.

JOSEPH Hello. Hello.
Ah Christ, not another ghost.

Who's there?

Go 'way and leave me alone. I'm on me day off.

Who are ya? I can't see ya.

I can't see you aither. I'm the Catwoman but I tould ya I'm not talkin' to ghosts today, yee have me heart scalded, hardly got a wink's sleep last night.

Please, I haven't spoken to anyone since the night
I died.

Have you? Who are ya anyway?

I'm Joseph Swan of Bergit's Island. Is this Bergit's Island?

This is the Bog of Cats.

The Bog of Cats. Me mother had a song about the place.

Josie Swan was your mother?

Ya know her?

Oh aye, I knew her. Then Hester must be your sister?

Hester, ya know Hester too?

She lives only down the lane. I never knew Hester had a brother.

I doubt she'd be tellin' people about me.

I don't mean to be short with ya, Joseph Swan, but Saturday is me day off. I haven't a minute to myself with yees, so tell me what is it ya want and then be on your way.

I want to be alive again. I want to stop walkin',
I want to rest, eat a steak, meet a girl, I want to fish for wild salmon and sow pike on Bergit's Lake again.

You'll never do them things again, Joseph Swan.

Don't say that to me, Catwoman, I'm just turned eighteen.

Eighteen. That's young to die alright. But it could be worse. I've a two-year-old ghost who comes to visit, all she wants to do is play Peep. Still eighteen young enough. How come ya went so young? An accident, was it? Or by your own hand?

(Going by) Ya talkin' to me, Catwoman?

No, Long Dunne, just a ghost, a poor lost ghost.

Oh. (And exit)

Are ya still there, Catwoman?

I am but there's nothin' I can do for ya, you're not comin' back?

Is there no way?

None, none in this world anyway, and the sooner ya realize that the better for ya. Now be on your way, settle in to your new world, knock the best out of ya can.

It's fierce hard to knock the best out of nothin', fierce hard to enjoy darkness the whole time, can't
I just stay here with ya, talk to ya a while?

Ya could I suppose, only I'm at a weddin' and they might think I'm not the full shillin' if I have to be talkin' to you all day. Look, I'll take ya down to Hester Swan's house, ya can talk to her.

Can she hear ghosts?

(Getting up) Oh aye, though she lets on she can't.

Alright so, I suppose I may as well since I'm here.

C'mon, felly me voice till I lead ya there.

(Following her) Keep talkin' so I don't take a wrong turnin'.

I will and hurry up now, I don't want to miss the weddin'. Ya still there?

I am.

And they're off by now. Enter Caroline and Carthage as they exit.

This is the tablecloth me mother had for her wed-din' and it's the same silver too. I'd really like for her to have been here today — Aye, I would.

A soft-boned lady, your mother. I used see her in town shoppin' with you be the hand, ya wanted to bow when she walked by, she had class. And you have too, Caroline, like no wan else around here.
CAROLINE I can’t stop thinkin’ about Hester.
CARATHAGE (Kisses her) Hester’ll be fine, tough as an auld bad.
Ya shouldn’t concern yourself with her on yer weddin’ day. I’ve provided well for her, she isn’t goin’ to ever have to work a day in her life. Josie’s the wan I worry about. The little sweetheart all done up in her Communion dress. Hetty should’ve got her a proper dress.
CAROLINE But Hester didn’t want her here, Carthage.
CAROLINE Ya know what I wish?
CARATHAGE That she’d just give Josie to me and be done with it.
CAROLINE You’re still very tangled up with Hester, aren’t ya?
CARATHAGE I’m not wan bit tangled with her, if she’d just do what she’s supposed to do which is fierce simple clear out of the Bog of Cats for wance and for all.
CAROLINE And I suppose ya’ll talk to me as callous as wan day too.
CARATHAGE Of course I won’t, why would I?
CAROLINE It’s all fierce messy, Carthage. I’d hoped ya’d have souted it out by today. It laves me in a fierce awkward position. You’re far more attached to her than ya’d led me to believe.
CARATHAGE Attached to her? I’m not attached to her, I stopped lovin’ her years ago!
CAROLINE I’m not jealous as to whether ya love her or don’t love her, I think maybe I’d prefer if ya still did.
CARATHAGE Then what’s botherin’ ya?
CAROLINE You and Hester has a whole history together stretchin’ back years that connects yees and that seems more important and real than anythin’ we have. And I wonder have we done the wrong thing.
CARATHAGE Ya should’ve said all this before ya took your vows at the altar.
CAROLINE I’ve been tryin’ to say it to ya for weeks.
CARATHAGE So what do we do now?
CAROLINE Get through today, I suppose, pretend it’s the best day of our lives. I don’t know about you but I’ve had better days than today, far better.
CAROLINE, Caroline, what’s wrong of ya?
CAROLINE Nothin’, only I feel like I’m walkin’ on somewan’s grave.

Enter MRS KILBRIDE in what looks extremely like a wedding dress, white, a white hat, with a bit of a veil trailing off it, white shoes, tights, bag, etc.

MRS K (Flushed, excited, nerotic) Oh the love birds! The love birds! There yees are, off hidin’. Carthage, I want a photo of yees. Would you take it, Caroline?
CAROLINE She means she wants wan of herself.
MRS K Shush now, Carthage, and stand up straight.

They pose like a bride and groom, Carthage glaring at MRS K.

That’s it. Wan more, smile, Carthage, smile, I hate a gloverous demeanour in a photograph. That’s great, Caroline, did ya get me shoes in?
CAROLINE I don’t think I —
MRS K Doesn’t matter, doesn’t matter, thank ya, what a glorious day, what a glorious white winter’s day, nothin’ must spoil today for me, nothin’.

Begins photographing her shoes, first one, then the other.

CARATHAGE What in the name of God are ya at now?
MRS K I just want to get a photo of me shoes while they’re new and clean. I’ve never had such a beautiful pair of shoes, look at the diamonds sparklin’ on them. I saved like a Shylock for them, seen them in O’Brien’s six months ago and I knew instantly them were to be me weddin’ shoes. And I put by every week for them. Guess how much they were, Carthage, g’wan guess, Caroline, guess, guess.
CAROLINE I don’t know, Mrs Kilbridge.
MRS K Elsie! Elsie! Call me Elsie, ah g’wan guess.
CAROLINE Fifty pound.
MRS K (Angry) Fifty pound! Are ya mad! Are ya out of your tiny mind?
CARThAGE Tell us how much they were, Mother, before we die of the suspense.
MRS K (Smug, can hardly believe it herself) A hundred and fifty pound. The Quane herself wouldn’t pay more.

MONICA and XAVIER have entered, MONICA has JOSIE by the hand.

MONICA — And Father Willow seems to have lost the run of himself entirely.
XAVIER They should put him down, he’s eighty if he’s a day.
MONICA The state of him with his hat on all durin’ the Mass and the vestments inside out and his pyjamas peepin’ out from under his trousers.
XAVIER Did you hear he’s started keepin’ a gun in the talc-nade?
MONICA I did, aye.
XAVIER For all them robbers, is it?
MONICA No, apparently it’s for any of us that’s late for Mass. Ya know what I was thinkin’ and I looked at Caroline up there on the altar, I was thinkin’ about my young fella Brian and I decided not to think about him today at all.
XAVIER God rest him.
MONICA If only I’d heeded the Catwoman he’d be here today. Didn’t you think about your own young fella too?
XAVIER Never, I never think about him. Never. Children. If they were calves we’d have them lettered and sold in three weeks. I never think of James. Never.
MONICA Or Olive aither?
XAVIER Ah, Olive had no fight in her, waited like a ewe in a storm after the young lad and then lay down with her face to the wall. Ya know what she died of, Monica? Spite. Spite again’ me. Well, she’s the wan who’s dead. I’ve the last laugh on her. Strange what these weddin’s drag up.

MONICA Aye, they cost a fortune.

XAVIER Takes two glasses of champagne from a passing waiter.

MONICA Here, Monica, and cheers. (To Josie) Child, a pound for your handbag.
MRS K What d’ya say, Josie?
XAVIER Lave her. Two things in this world get ya nowhere, sayin’ sorry and sayin’ thanks — that right, Josie?
JOSIE That’s right, Mr Cassidy.
MRS K (Taking Josie a little aside) Here give me that pound till I mind it for ya.
JOSIE First give me back me Communion money.
MRS K What Communion money?
CARThAGE So it was you took her Communion money.

XAVIER The CATWOMAN and FATHER WILLOW have entered, linking arms, both with their sticks. FATHER WILLOW has his snuff on hand, pyjamas showing from under his shirt and trousers, hat on, adores the CATWOMAN.

FATHER WILLOW I’m tellin’ ya now, Catwoman, ya’ll have to cut back on the mice, they’ll be the death of ya.
CATWOMAN And you’ll have to cut back on the snuff.
FATHER WILLOW Try snails instead, far better for ya, the French ate them with garlic and tons of butter and Burgundly wine. I tried them wance myself and I in Avalon. Delicious.
CATWOMAN We should go on a holiday, you and me, Father Willow.
FATHER WILLOW Ah, ya say that every winter and come the summer I can’t budge ya.
CATWOMAN I’ll go away with ya next summer and that’s a promise.
FR WILLOW Well, where do ya want to go and I’ll book the tickets in the mornin’?
CATWOMAN Anywhere at all away from this auld bog, somewhere with a big hot sun.
FR WILLOW Burgundy’s your man then.
MONICA God help Burgundy is all I say.
CATWOMAN Anywhere it’s not rainin’ because it’s goin’ to rain here all next summer, seen it writ in the sky.
MRS K Write in the sky, me eye, sure she’s blind as a bat. Xavier, what did ya have to invite the Catwoman for? Brings down the tone of the whole wedding.
MONICA Hasn’t she as much right to walk God’s earth as you, partake of its pleasures too.
MRS K No, she hasn’t! Not till she washes herself. The turf-smoke stink of her. Look at her moochin’ up to Father Willow and her never inside the doors of the church and me at seven Mass every morning watchin’ that auld fool dribblin’ into the choir. And would he call to see me? Never. Spends all his time with the Catwoman in her dirty little novel. I’d write to the Archbishop if I thought he was capable of anythin’. Why did ya have to invite her?
XAVIER Ya know as well as me it’s bad luck not to invite the Catwoman.

FATHER WILLOW shoots MRS K in the back of the head with an imaginary pistol as he walks by and she walks by.
MRS K I’d love to hose her down, fling her in onto the milkin’ parlour floor, turn the water on full blast and hose her down to her kidneys.
CARTHAGE (With his arm around CAROLINE) Well, Catwoman, what do ya predict for us?
CATWOMAN I predict nothin’.
CARTHAGE Ah g’wan now, ya must have a blessin’ or a vision.

CAROLINE Love it, Carthage. You’re welcome, Catwoman and Father Willow.
FR WILLOW Thank you, Ester, thank you.
CARTHAGE You mean, Caroline, Father Willow, this is Caroline.
FR WILLOW Whatever.
CARTHAGE Come on now, Catwoman, and give Caroline and me wan of your blessin’s.
CATWOMAN Seein’ as ya insist. Separate tombstones. I’m sorry but I toold ya not to ax me.
JOSIE Granny, will ya take a photo of just me and Daddy for to put in me scrapbook?
MRS K Don’t be so rude, you, to Caroline. (Hisses) And I toold ya to call me Grandmother!
JOSIE (Whispers boldly from the safety of her father’s side) Granny, Granny, Granny.
CAROLINE She’s alright. Here, I’ll take the photo of you and Carthage for your scrapbook. (Does)
MRS K She’s ruined, that’s what she is, turnin’ up in her Communion dress, makin’ a holy show of us all.
CARTHAGE It’s you that’s the holy show in that stupid dress.
MRS K I do not! There’s gratitude for ya. Ya make an effort to look your best. (Close to tears) I cut back on everythin’ to buy this dress. How was I supposed to know the bride’d be wearin’ white as well.
CARTHAGE Don’t start whinin’ now in front of everywan, sit down will ya, ya look fine, ya look great — Alright, I’m sorry. Ya look stunning!
MRS K (Beginning to smile) I don’t, do I?
CARTHAGE Christ! Yes!
FR WILLOW (Leading the CATWOMAN to the table, whispers to her) If ya were a bar of chocolate I’d ate ya.
CATWOMAN If I was a bar of chocolate I’d ate meself.

They’re all made their way to the table by now and are seated, Xavier tinkles his glass for silence.
XAVIER Thank you. Now before we dig in I’d like to welcome all ye here on wan of the happiest days of my life. Ye have all known that Caroline has been my greatest joy and reason for living. Her mother, if she was here today, would’ve been proud too at how she has grown into a lovely and graceful woman. I can take no credit for that though I’ve taken the greatest pride these long years in watchin’ her change from a motherless child to a gawky girl, to this apparition before me eyes today. We auld fathers would like to keep our daughters be our sides forever and enjoy their care and gentleness but it seems the world does have a different plan entirely. We must bear them up for another man’s benefit. Well, if this is so, I can’t think of a better man than Carthage Kilbride to take over the care of me only child. (Raising his glass) I wish yees well and happiness and infants rompin’ on the hearth.

ALL Hear! Hear!

XAVIER Father Willow, would ya do us the

MRS K (Standing up) I’d like to say a few words too——

XAVIER Go ahead, Mrs Kilbride.

MRS K As the proud mother of the groom —

CARTHAGE Mother, would ya whisht up —

MRS K (Posh public speaking voice) As the proud mother of the groom, I feel the need to answer Xavier’s fine speech with a few words of my own. Never was a mother more blessed than me in havin’ Carthage for a son. As a child he was uncommon good, never cried, never disobeyed, never raised his voice wance to me, never went about with a grumpy puss on him. Indeed he went to the greatest pains always to see that me spirits was good, and me heart was uplifted. When his father died he used come into the bed to sleep beside me for fear I would be lonely. Often I woke from a deep slumber and his two arms would be around me and a small leg thrown over me in sleep —

MRS K The craythur —

CARTHAGE He was also always aware of my abidin’ love for Our Lord, unlike some here (Glares at the Catwoman) and on wan occasion, me birthday it was, I looked out the back window and there he was up on the slope behind our house and what was he doin’? He was buildin’ Calvary for me. He’d hammered three wooden crosses and was erectin’ them on the slope Calvary-style. Wan for him, wan for me and wan for Our Lord. And we draped ourselves around them like the two thieves in the holy book, remember, Carthage?

CARTHAGE I do not, would ya ever sit down.

MRS K Of course ya do, the three crosses ya made up on the slope and remember the wind was howlin’ and the pair of us yellin’ ‘Calvary! Calvary!’ to wan another. Of course ya remember. I’m only tellin’ yees this story as wan of the countless examples of Carthage’s kind nature and I only want to say that Caroline is very welcome into the Kilbride household. And that if Carthage will be as good a son to Caroline as he’s been a husband to me then she’ll have no complaints. (Raising her glass) Cheers.

ALL Hear! Hear!

XAVIER And now, Father Willow, ya’ll say grace for us?

F. WILLOW It’d be an honour, Jack, thank you —

MRS K Who’s Jack?

F. WILLOW (Getting up) In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, it may or may not surprise yees all if I told yees I was almost a groom meself wance. Her name was Elizabeth Kennedy, no that was me mother’s name, her name was — it’ll come to me, anyway it wasn’t to be, in the end we fell out over a duck egg on a walkin’ holiday by the Shannon, what was her name at all? Helen? No.

MRS K Would ya say the grace, Father Willow, and be —

F. WILLOW The grace, yes, how does it go again?
MRS K Bless us, oh Lord, and these thy gifts which of Rowena. That was it. Rowena Phelan. I should never have ate that duck egg — no — (Stands lost in thought)

Enter HESTER in her wedding dress, veil, shoes, the works.

MRS K Ya piebald knacker ya.
XAVIER What's your business here, Swane, besides puttin' a curse on me daughter's wedding?
MRS K The brazen nerve of her turnin' up in that gown.
HESTER The kettle callin' the pot white. Remember the dress, Carthage? He bought it for me—
CAROLINE Daddy, would ya do somethin'?
HESTER Oh must be near nine year ago. We'd got to the stage where we should've parted and I said it in ya and ya convinced me otherwise and axed me to marry ya. Come home wan evening with this dress in a box and somehow it got put away. Ya only ever wanted me there until ya were strong enough to love me.
CARthAGE Get outa here right now!
HESTER Ya thought ya could come swaggerin' to me this mornin' in your wedding clothes, well, here I am in mine. This is my wedding day be rights and nuthin' of yees can deny it. And yees all just sit there glarin' as if I'm the guilty wan. (Takes CARTHAGE's glass of wine, drinks from it)
MRS K Run her off, Xavier! Run her off or I will. (Goes up and pulls her back) Would you keep out of this!
MRS K And let her walk all over us?
MONICA Hester, go home, g'wan.
MRS K (Getting up again) I've had the measure of you this long time, the lazy shiftless blood in ya, that savage tinker yet ya turn on people to frighten them—
CARTHAGE Would ya shut up! Ya haven't shut up all day! We're not havin' a brawl here.

MRS K There's a nice way to talk to your mother on your wedding day, I'm not afraid of ya, Hester Swane, you're just a sad lost little woman—HESTER I still stole your son from ya, didn't I, Elsie? Your sissy boy that I tried to make a man of.
MRS K Ya took advantage of him, ya had to take advantage of a young boy for your perverted pleasures for no grown man would stomach ya.
HESTER And weren't they great, Carthage, all them nights in the caravan I 'took advantage' of ya and you bangin' on the window and us stuffin' pillows in our mouths so ya wouldn't hear us laughin'—
MRS K You're absolutely disgustin', that's what ya are!
HESTER Have you ever been discarded, Elsie Kilbride? — the way I've been disposed—MRS K No, I've never been discarded, Hester Swane! You know why? Because I've never overstepped myself. I've always lived by the rules.
HESTER Ah rules! What rules are they? Teach them to me and I'll live by them. Yees don't know what it's like, to be flung on the ashpit and you still alive—
XAVIER No wan's flingin' ya anywhere! We done everythin' proper by you—HESTER Proper! Yees have taken everythin' from me. I've done nothin' again' any of yees. I'm just bein' who I am, Carthage, I'm axin' ya the wance more, come away with me now, with me and—
MRS K Come away with her, she says—
HESTER Yes! Come away with me and Josie and stop all this—
XAVIER Come away with ya! Are ya mad! He's married to Caroline now—
CARTHAGE Go home, Hester, and pack your things.
MONICA C'mon, Hester, I'll take ya home.
HESTER I have no home anymore for he's decided to take it from me.
MONICA Then come and live with me. I've no wan—HESTER No, I want to stay in my own house. Just let me stay in the house, Carthage. I won't bother any—wan if yeed just lave me alone. I was born on the Bog of Cats, same as all of yeeds, though ya’d never think it the way yeed shun me. I know every hairrow and rivulet and bog hole of its nine square miles. I know where the best bog rosemary grows and the sweetest wild bog rue. I could lead ya around the Bog of Cats in me sleep.

CARTHAGE There’s a house bought and furnished for ya in town as ya agreed to —

HESTER I’ve never lived in a town. I won’t know anywhere —

MONICA Ah, let her stay in the house, the Bog of Cats is all she knows —

MRS K And since when do we need you stickin’ your snout in, Monica Murray?

MONICA Since you and your son have forgotten all dandy Elsie Kilbride. Ya’ve always been too hard on her. Ya never gave her a chance —

MRS K A waste of time givin’ chances to a tinker. All tinkers understands is the open road and where the next bottle of whiskey is comin’ from.

MONICA Well, you should know and your own grandfather wan’!

MRS K My grandfather was a wanderin’ tinsmith —

MONICA And what’s that but a tinker with notions!

FR WILLOW What year is this wine?

MONICA Go home, Hester. Don’t plead your case with this shower. They’d sicken ya!

HESTER Carthage, ya could also afford another house for yourself and Caroline if ya wanted —

CARTHAGE No! We’re stickin’ by what we agreed on —

HESTER The truth is you want to eradicate me, make out I never existed —

CARTHAGE If I wanted to eradicate ya, I could’ve, long ago. And I could’ve taken Josie off of ya. Facts are, I been more than generous with ya.

HESTER You’re plentiful with the guilt money alright, showerin’ buckets of it on me. (Flings envelope he had given her in Act One at him) There’s your mild blood money back. Ya think you’re gettin’ away that easy! Money won’t take that guilt away, Carthage, we’ll go to our grave with it!

CARTHAGE I’ve not an ounce of guilt where you’re concerned and whatever leftover feelin’ I had for ya as the mother of me child is gone after this display of hatred towards me. Just go away, I can’t bear the sight of ya!

HESTER I can’t lave the Bog of Cats —

MRS K We’ll burn ya out if we have to —

HESTER Ya see —

MRS K Won’t we, Xavier —

XAVIER Ya can lave me out of any low-boy tactics. You’re lavin’ this place today, Swan, aren’t ya?

HESTER I can’t lave — Ya see me mother said she’d come back here —

MRS K Your mother! That tramp hasn’t been seen round here in over thirty —

HESTER Don’t call her that! Father Willow, tell them what they’re doin’ is wrong. They’ll listen to you.

FR WILLOW They’ve never listened to me, sure they even lie in the Confession box. Ya know what I do? I wear ear-plugs.

HESTER (Close to tears) I can’t lave till me mother comes. I’d hoped she’d have come before now and it wouldn’t come to this. Don’t make me lave this place or somethin’ terrible’ll happen. Don’t.

XAVIER We’ve had enough of your ravin’, Swan, so take yourself elsewhere and let us try to republic these marred celebrations.

JOSIE I’ll go with ya, Mam, and ya look gorgeous in that dress.

CARTHAGE Stay where ya are, Josie.

JOSIE No, I want to go with me Mam.

CARTHAGE (Stopping her) Ya don’t know what ya want. And reconsiderin’, I think it’d be better all round if Josie stays with me till ya’ve moved. I’ll bring her back to ya then.

HESTER I’ve swallyed all me pride over you. You’re lavin’ me no choice but a vicious war against ya.
_Takes a bottle of wine from the table._

Josie, I'll be back to collect ya later. And you just try keepin' her from me!

_End of Act Two._

ACT THREE

_Dusk. HESTER, in her wedding dress, charred and muddied. Behind her, the house and sheds ablaze. JOSEPH SWANE stands in the flames watching her._

HESTER Well, Carthage, ya think them were only idle threats I made? Ya think I can be flung in a bog hole like a bag of newborn pups? Let's see how ya like this — Ya hear that sound? Them's your cattle howlin'. Ya smell that smell? That's your forty calves roasin'. I tied them all in and flung diesel on them. And the house, I burnt the bed and the whole place went up in flames. I'd burn down the world if I'd enough diesel — Will somewan not come and save me from meself before I go and do worse.

_Joseph starts to sing._

JOSEPH By the Bog of Cats I finally learned false from true,
Learned too late that it was you and only you
Left me sore, a heart brimfull of rue
By the Bog of Cats in the —

HESTER Who's there? Who dares sing that song? That's my song that me mother made up for me. Who's there?

JOSEPH I think ya know me, Hester.

HESTER It's not Joseph Swane, is it?

JOSEPH It is alright.

HESTER I thought I done away with you. Where are ya? I can't see ya. Keep off! Keep away! I'm warnin' ya.

JOSEPH I'm not here to harm ya.

HESTER Ya should be. If you'd done to me what I done to you I'd want your guts on a platter. Well come on! I'm ready for ya! Where are ya!

JOSEPH I don't know, somewhere near ya. I can't see you aither.

HESTER Well, what do ya want, Joseph Swane, if you're not here to harm me? Is an apology you're after? Well, I've none for ya. I'd slit your throat a gin I ya stood here in front of me in flesh and bone.

JOSEPH Would ya? What're ya so angry about? I've been listenin' to ya screamin' your head off for the last while.

HESTER You've a nerve singin' that song. That song is mine! She made it for me and only me. Can't you lave me with anythin'?

JOSEPH I didn't know it was yours. She used sing it to me all the time.

HESTER You're lyin'! Faithless! All of ye! Faithless! If she showed up now I'd spit in her face, I'd box the jaws off of her. I'd go after her with a knife, I'd make her squeal like a cornered badger. Where is she? She said she'd return. I've waited so long — Have you come across her where you are?

JOSEPH Death's a big country, Hester. She could be anywhere in it.

HESTER No, she's alive. I can smell her. She's comin' towards me. I know it. Why doesn't she come? I'll be done with it! If ya see her tell her I won't be hard on her, will ya?

JOSEPH Aye, if I see her.

HESTER Tell her there's just a couple of things I need to ask her, will ya?

JOSEPH I will.

HESTER I just want to know why, that's all.

JOSEPH Why what?

HESTER Was it somethin' I done on her? I was seven, same as me daughter Josie, seven, and there isn't anythin' in this wide world Josie could do that'd make me walk away from her.

HESTER Ya have a daughter?

JOSEPH Aye, they're tryin' to take her from me. Just let them try!

JOSEPH Who's tryin'?

HESTER It wasn't for you, me and Carthage'd still be together!

JOSEPH So it's my fault ya killed me, that what you're sayin'?

HESTER He took your money after we killed ya —

JOSEPH To my memory Carthage did nothin' only look on. I think he was as shocked as I was when ya came at me with the fishin' knife —

HESTER He took your money! He helped me throw ya overboard! And now he wants to put it all on me.

JOSEPH Ya came at me from behind, didn't ya? Wan minute I'm rowin' and the next I'm a ghost.

HESTER If ya hadn't been such an arrogant git I may have left ya alone but ya just wouldn't shut up talkin' about her as if she wasn't my mother at all. The big smug neck of ya! It was axin' to be cut. And she even called ya after her. And calls me Hester. What sort of a name is Hester? Hester's after no wan. And she saves her own name for you — Didn't she ever tell ya about me?

JOSEPH She never mentioned ya.

HESTER She must've. It's a long time ago. Think, will ya. Didn't she ever say anythin' about me?

JOSEPH Only what she tould me father. She never spoke to me about ya.

HESTER Listen to ya! You're still goin' on as if she was yours and you only an auld ghost! You're still talkin' as if I never existed.

JOSEPH I don't know what you're on about, Hester, but if it's any consolation to ya, she left me too and our father. Josie Swane hung around for no wan.

HESTER What age were ya when she left ya?

JOSEPH Goin' on ten.

HESTER Goin' on ten — that's three year more ya had of her than me — and me all that time waitin' for her and her all the time molly cuddlin' you was she like, Joseph? Every day I forget more till I'm startin' to think I made her up in the air. If it wasn't for this auld caravan I only dreamt her. What was she like?

JOSEPH Well, she was big for starters.

HESTER Aye, a big rancorous hulk.

JOSEPH And she was fierce silent — gentle I suppose in her way.

HESTER Gentle! She'd a vicious whiskey temper on her and a whiplash tongue and fists that'd harden like lightnin'.

JOSEPH She never laid a hand on me — though I remem-ber her fightin' with me father alright. He wasn't able for her at all. He'd be skulkin' round the house and her blowin' off about somethin' other and her twice the size of him. I remember her goin' after him with a brush wan time. 'What're ya at?' says he and he backin' away from her. 'I'm spring cleanin',,' says she and she sweepin' him out the door — It wasn't his fault Hester, she told him you were dead, that ya died at birth, it wasn't his fault. Ya would've liked the old man, but she told him ya died, that ya were born with your heart all wrong.

HESTER Nothin' wrong of me heart till she set about banjaxin' it. The lyin' tongue of her. And he believed her.

JOSEPH Didn't he send me lookin' for ya in the end, see was there any trace of ya, told me to split the money with ya if I found ya. Hester, I was goin' to split the money with ya. I had it there in the boat I was goin' to split it with ya when we reached the shore, ya didn't have to cut me throat for it.

HESTER Ya think I slit your throat for a few auld pound me father left me?

JOSEPH Then why?

HESTER She stole my life from me.

JOSEPH So you stole mine.

HESTER Well somewan had to pay.

JOSEPH If ya knew what it was like here ya'd never have done what ya done.

HESTER Oh I think I know, Joseph, and I this years an apprentice ghost.

JOSEPH I'll be off, Hester, I didn't come for a row, I just wanted to say hello.

HESTER Where are ya goin'?

JOSEPH Just stravagin' the shadows.

HESTER Look out for me over there.

JOSEPH It's not wan bit romantic bein' dead, let me tell ya.

HESTER I never thought it was.

And exit JOSEPH. HESTER sits on the steps of the caravan, drinks some wine from the bottle she took from the wedding, lights a cigar. MONICA shouts off-stage.

MONICA Hester! Hester! Your house! It's on fire! Hester! (Runs on) Come quick, I'll get the others!

HESTER Don't bother.

MONICA But your house — Ya set it yourself?

HESTER I did.

MONICA Christ almighty woman, are ya gone mad?

HESTER Ya want a drink?

MONICA A drink, she says! I better go and get Carthage, the livestock, the calves —

HESTER Would ya calm down, Monica, only an auld house, it should never have been built in the first place. Let the bog have it back. In a year or so, it'll be covered in gorse and furze, a tree'll grow out through the roof, maybe a big bog oak. I never liked that house anyway.

MONICA That's what the tinkers do, isn't it, burn everythin' after them?

HESTER Aye.

MONICA They'll skin ya alive, Hester, I'm tellin' ya, they'll kill ya.

HESTER And you with them.
MONICA
I stood up for ya as best I could, I've to live here. Hester. I had to pay me respects in Cassidy's. Sure Xavier and meself used walk to school together.

HESTER
Wan of these days you'll die of niceness, Mon. Murray.

MONICA
A quality you've never had any time for. I'm just wan big lump of maneness and bad thoughts. Sit down, have a drink with me, I'll give ya a glass. (Goes into the caravan, gets one) Sit down before ya fall.

MONICA (Sitting on steps, tipsily)
We'll go off in this yoke, you and me.

HESTER
Will we?

MONICA
Flee off from this place, flee off to Eden.

HESTER
Eden — I left Eden, Monica, at the age of seven. It was on account of a look be this caravan added. A look from a pair of nonchalant eyes, the colour of which I'm still not sure of.

MONICA
And who was it gave ya this look, your mother was it? Josie Swane?

HESTER
Oh aye, Monica, she was the wan alright who looked at me so askance and strangely. What believe a look could destroy ya? I never would've 'cept it happened to me.

MONICA
She was a harsh auld yoke, Hester, came and went like the moon. Ya'd wake wan mornin' and look out over the bog and ya'd see a fire and know she had returned. And I'd bring her down a sup of milk or a few eggs and she'd be there sittin' on the step just like you are, with her big head of black hair and eyes glamin' like a cat and long arms and a powerful neck all knotted that she'd stretch like a swan in a yawn and me with ne'er a neck at all. But I was never comfortable with her, riddled by her, though, and I wasn't the only wan. There was lots spent evenin's tryin' to figure Josie Swane, somethin' cold and dead about her except when she sang and then I declare ya'd fall in love with her.

HESTER
Would ya now?

MONICA
There was a time round here when no celebration was complete without Josie Swane. She'd be invited everywhere to sing, funerals, weddin's, christenin's, birthdays of the bigger farmers, the harvest. And she'd make up songs for each occasion. And it wasn't so much they wanted her there, more they were afraid not to have her.

HESTER
I used go with her on some of them singin' sprees before she ran off. And she'd make up the song as we walked to wherever we were goin'. Sometimes she'd sing somethin' completely different than the song she'd been makin' on the road. Them were her 'Blast from God' songs as opposed to her 'Workaday' songs, or so she called them. And they never axed us to stay, these people, to sit down and ate with them, just lapped up her songs, gave her a bag of food and a half a crown and walked us off the premises, for fear we'd steal somethin', I suppose. I don't think it bothered her, it did me — and still rankles after all these years. But not Josie Swane, she'd be off to the shop to buy cigars and beer and sweets for me.

MONICA
Is there another sup of wine there?

HESTER (Pours for her)
I'm all the time wonderin' whatever happened to her.

MONICA
You're still waitin' on her, aren't ya?

HESTER
This thirty-three years and it's still like she only walked away yesterday.

MONICA
She's not comin' back, Hester. I know what it's like to wait for somewan who's never walkin' through the door again. But this waitin' is only a fancy of yours. Now I don't make out to know anythin' about the workin's of this world but I know this much, it don't yield asy to mortal wishes. And maybe that's the way it has to be. You up on forty, Hester, and still dreamin' of storybook endin's, still whin'gin' for your Mam.
HESTER  I made a promise, Monica, a promise to meself a long while back, all them years I was in the Industrial school I swore to meself that wan day I'm comin' back to the Bog of Cats to wait for her there and I'm never lavin' again.

MONICA  Well, I don't know how ya'll swing to stay now your house in ashes, ya after appearin' in that dress. They're sayin' it's a black art thing ya picked up somewhere.

HESTER  A black art thing. (laughs) If I knew any black art things, by Christ, I'd use them now. The only way I'm lavin' this place is in a box and if it comes to that I'm not lavin' alone. I'll take yees all with me. And, yes, there's things about me yees never understood and makes yees afraid and yees are right for other things goes through my vein besides blood that I've fought so hard to keep wraps on.

MONICA  And what things are they?

HESTER  I don't understand them meself.

MONICA  Stop this wild talk then, I don't like it.

HESTER  Carthage still at the weddin'?

MONICA  And where else would he be?

HESTER  And what sour of mood is he in?

MONICA  I wasn't mindin'. Don't waste your time over a man like him, faithless as an acorn on a high wind — wine all gone?

HESTER  Aye.

MONICA  I'll go up to the feast and bring us back a bottle unless you've any objections.

HESTER  I'll drink the enemy's wine. Not the wine's fault it fell into the paws of cut-throats and gargilies.

MONICA  Be back in a while, so.

HESTER  And check see Josie's alright, will ya?

MONICA  She's dancin' her little heart out.

Exit MONICA. HESTER looks around, up at the winter sky of stars, shivers.

HESTER  Well, it's dusk now and long after and where are ya, Mr Ghost Fancier. I'm here waitin' for ya, though I've been told to flee. Maybe you're not comin' after all, maybe I only imagined ya.

Enter Josie running, excited.

JOSIE  Mam! — Mam! I'm goin' on the honeymoon with Daddy and Caroline.

HESTER  You're goin' no such where.

JOSIE  Ah, Mam, they're goin' drivin' to the sea. I never seen the sea.

HESTER  It's just wan big bog hole, Josie, and blue, that's all, nothin' remarkable about it.

JOSIE  Well, Daddy says I'm goin'.

HESTER  Don't mind your Daddy.

JOSIE  No, I want to go with them. It's only for five days, Mam.

HESTER  There's a couple of things you should know about your precious Daddy, ya should know how he has treated me!

JOSIE  I'm not listenin' to ya givin' out about him. (Covers her ears with her hands)

HESTER  That's right, stand up for him and see how far it'll get ya. He swore to me that after you'd been born he'd marry me and now he plans to take ya off of me. I suppose ya'd like that too.

JOSIE  (Still with ears covered) I said I'm not listenin'!

HESTER  (Pulls Josie's hands from her ears) You'll listen to me, Josie Swane, and you listen well. Another that had your name walked away from me. Your perfect Daddy walked away from me. And you'll walk from me too. All me life people have walked away without a word of explanation. Well, I want to tell ya somethin', Josie, if you love me ya'll die.

JOSIE  I will not.

HESTER  Ya will! Ya will! It's a sour of curse was put on ya be the Catwoman and the black swan. Remember the black swan?
JOSIE Aye. (Frightened)

HESTER So you have to stay with me, d’ya see, and if your Daddy or anywan else axes ya who ya’d prefer to live with, ya have to say me.

JOSIE Mam, I would’ve said you anyway.

HESTER Would ya? — Oh, I’m sorry, Josie, I’m sorry, sweet heart. It’s not true what I said about a curse being put on ya, it’s not true at all. If I’m let go tonight, I swear I’ll make it up to ya for them awful things I’m after sayin’.

JOSIE It’s alright, Mam, I know ya didn’t mean it — Can I go back to the weddin’? The dancin’s not over yet.

HESTER Dance with me. (Begins Waltzing with Josie, music)

Come on, we’ll have our own weddin’.

Picks her up, they swirl and twirl to the music.

Ya beautiful, beautiful child, I could eat ya.

JOSIE I could eat ya too — Can I go back to the weddin’ for a while?

HESTER Ya can do anythin’ ya want, hef’ lave me. (Puts her down) G’wan then, for half an hour.

JOSIE I brung ya a big lump of weddin’ cake in my handbag. Here. Why wasn’t it your weddin’ Mam?

HESTER It sort of was. G’wan and enjoy yourself.

And exit Josie running. Hester looks after her eatin’ the weddin’ cake. Xavier Cassidy comes up behind her from the shadows, demonic, red-faced, drink taken, carries a gun.

XAVIER Ya enjoyin’ that, are ya, Swane, me daughter’s weddin’ cake?

HESTER Oh it’s yourself, Xavier, with your auld gun. I was wonderin’ when I’d see ya in your true colours. Must’ve been an awful strain on ya behavin’ so well all day.

XAVIER Ya burnt the bloody house to the ground.

HESTER Did ya really think I was goin’ to have your daughter livin’ there?

XAVIER Ya won’t beat me, Swane, ya know that. I ran your mother out of here and I’ll run you too like a frightened hare.

HESTER It’s got nothin’ to do with ya, Cassidy, it’s between me and Carthage.

XAVIER Got everythin’ to do with me and ya after makin’ a mockery of me and me daughter in front of the whole parish.

HESTER No more than yees deserve for wheedlin’ and cajolin’ Carthage away from me with your promises of land and money.

XAVIER He was aisy wheedled.

HESTER He was always a feckless fool.

XAVIER Aye, in all respects bar wan. He loves the land and like me he’d rather die than part with it wance he gets his greedy hands on it. With him Cassidy’s farm’ll be safe, the name’ll be gone, but never the farm. And who’s to say but maybe your little bastard and her offspring won’t be farmin’ my land in years to come.

HESTER Josie’ll have nothin’ to do with anythin’ that’s yours. I’ll see to that. And if ya’d looked after your own son better ya wouldn’t be covetin’ Josie nor any that belongs to me.

XAVIER Don’t you talk about my young fella.

HESTER Wasn’t it me that found him, strykhnined to the eyeballs, howlin’ ’long the bog and his dog in his arms?

XAVIER How was I supposed to know he’d go and dig the dog up?

HESTER You’re not a farmer for nothin’, somethin’ about that young lad bothered ya, he wasn’t tough enough for ya probably, so ya strykhnined his dog, knowin’ full well the child’d be goin’ lookin’ for him. And ya know what strykhnine does, a tayspoonfull is all it takes, and ya’d the dog showered in it. Burnt his hands clean away. Ya knew what ya were at, Cassidy, and ya know I know. I can tell the darkness in you, ya know how? Because it mirrors me own. And that's why ya want me out of here. And maybe you're right. I can't tell anymore.

Xavier
Fabrications! Fabrications of a mind unhinged! My son died in a tragic accident of no wan's makin'. That's what the inquest said. My conscience is clear.

Hester
Is it now? Well, I don't believe in tragic accidents and especially not where you're concerned.

Xavier
If ya could just hear the mad talk of yourself, Swane, and the cut of ya. You're mad as your mother and she was a lunatic.

Hester
Nothin' lunatic about her 'cept she couldn't breathe the same air as yees all here by the Bog of Cats.

Xavier
We often breathed the same air, me and Josie Swane, she was a loose wan, loose and lazy andaisy, a five shillin' hoor, like you.

Hester
If you're tryin' to destroy some high idea I have of her you're wastin' your time. I've spent long hours of all the long years thinkin' about her. There isn't a situation I haven't imagined her in. I've lived through every mood there is to live concernin' her. Sure there was a time I hated her and wished the worst for her, but I've taught meself to rise above all that is cruel and unworthy in me thinkin' about her. So don't you think your five shillin' hoor stories will ever change me opinion of her. I have memories your cheap talk can never alter.

Xavier
And what memories are they, Swane? I'd like to know if they exist at all.

Hester
Oh they exist alright and ya'd like to rob them from me along with everythin' else. But ya wouldn't because I'm stronger than ya and ya'll take nothin' from me I don't choose to give ya.

Xavier (Puts gun to her throat) Won't I now? Think ya'll outwit me with your tinker ways and —

Hester
Let go of me!

Xavier (A tighter grip) Now let's see the leftovers of Carthage Kilbride. (Uses gun to look down her dress)

Hester
I'm warnin' ya, let go!

_A struggle, a few blows, he wins this bout._

Xavier
Now are ya stronger than me? I could do what I wanted with ya right here and now and no wan would believe ya. Now what I'd really like to know is when are ya plannin' on lavin'?

Hester
What're ya goin' to do, Cassidy? Blow me head off?

Xavier
I married me daughter today, now I don't care for the whiny little rip that much, but she's all I've got, and I don't want Carthage changin' his mind after a while. So when are ya lavin', Swane? When?

Hester
Ya think I'm afraid of you and your auld gun.

_Puts her mouth over the barrel._

G'wan shoot! Blow me away! Save me the bother meself.

_Goes for the trigger._

Ya want me to do it for ya?

_Another struggle, this time xavier trying to get away from her._

Xavier
You're a dangerous witch, Swane.

Hester (Laugh at him) You're sweatin'. Always knew ya were yella to the bone. Don't worry, I'll be lavin' this place tonight, though not the way you or any-wan else expects. Ya call me a witch, Cassidy? This is nothin', you just wait and see the real — Enter CARTHAGE running, enraged, shakes her violently.

CARTHAGE The cattle! The calves! Ya burnt them all, they’re roarin’ in the flames! The house in ashes! A’ ya gone mad altogether! The calves! A’ ya gone mad!

HESTER (Shakes him off) No, I only meant what I said. I warned ya, CARTHAGE, ya drove me to it.

XAVIER A hundred year ago we’d strap ya to a stake and roast ya till your guts exploded.

CARTHAGE That’s it! I’m takin’ Josie off of ya! I don’t care if I’ve to drag ya through the courts. I’ll have ya put away! I’ll tell all about your brother! I don’t care!

HESTER Tell them! And tell them your own part in it too while you’re at it! Don’t you threaten me with Josie! This pervert has just been gropin’ me with his gun and you want Josie round him —

XAVIER The filthy lies of her —

HESTER Bringin’ a child on a honeymoon, what are ya at, CARTHAGE? Well, I won’t let ya use Josie to fill in the silences between yourself and Caroline Cassidy —

XAVIER She’s beyond reasonin’ with, if she was mine I’d cut that tinker tongue from her mouth, I’d brand her lips, I’d —

CARTHAGE (Exploding at XAVIER) Would you just go back to the weddin’ and lave us alone, stop interferin’. If ya’d only let me handle it all the way I wanted to, but no, ya had to push and bring the weddin’ forward to avoid your taxes, just lave us alone, will ya!

XAVIER I will and gladly. You’re a fiasco, Kilbride, like all the Kilbridges before ya, ya can’t control a mere woman, ya’ll control nothin’, I’m havin’ serious doubts about signin’ over farm —

CARTHAGE Keep your bloody farm, Cassidy. I have me own. I’m not your scrubber boy. There’s other things besides land.

XAVIER There’s nothin’ besides land, boy, nothin’, and a real farmer would never think otherwise.

CARTHAGE Just go back to the weddin’, I’ll follow ya in a while and we can try hammerin’ out our differences.

XAVIER Can we?

EXIT XAVIER.

HESTER All’s not well in Paradise.

CARTHAGE All’d be fine if I could do away with you.

HESTER If ya just let me stay I’ll cause no more trouble. I’ll move into the caravan with Josie. In time ya may be glad to have me around. I’ve been your greatest friend around here, CARTHAGE, doesn’t that count for nothin’ now?

CARTHAGE I’m not havin’ me daughter livin’ in a caravan!

HESTER There was a time you loved this caravan.

CARTHAGE Will ya just stop tryin’ to drag up them years! It won’t work!

HESTER Ya promised me things! Ya built that house for me. Ya wanted me to see how normal people lived. And I went along with ya again’ me better judgement. All I ever wanted was to be by the Bog of Cats. A modest want when compared with the wants of others. Just let me stay here in the caravan.

CARTHAGE And have the whole neighbourhood makin’ a laughin’ stock of me?

HESTER That’s not why ya won’t let me stay. You’re ashamed of your part in me brother’s death, aren’t ya?

CARTHAGE I had no part in it!

HESTER You’re afraid I’ll tell everywan what ya done. I won’t. I wouldn’t ever, CARTHAGE.

CARTHAGE I done nothin’ except watch!

HESTER Ya helped me tie a stone around his waist!

CARTHAGE He was dead by then!

HESTER He wasn’t! His pulse was still goin’!

CARTHAGE You’re only sayin’ that now to torture me! Why did ya do it, Hetty? We were doin’ fine till then.
HESTER Somethin' evil moved in on me blood — and then — fishin' knife was there in the bottom of the boat — and Berkit's Lake was wide — and I looked across the lake to me father's house and it went through me like a spear that she had a whole other life there — How could she have and I a part of her?

CARTHAGE Ya never said any of this before — I always thought ya killed your brother for the money.

HESTER I met his ghost tonight, ya know —

CARTHAGE His ghost?

HESTER Aye, a gentle ghost and so lost, and he spoke to me softly to me, I didn't deserve such softness —

CARTHAGE Ah, would you stop this talk!

HESTER You rose in the world on his ashes! And that's what haunts ya and that's why ya want to forget I ever existed. Well, I won't let ya. You'll remember me, CARTHAGE, when the dust settles, when ya grow tired scurin' acres and bank balances. Ya'll remember me when ya walk them big empty childless rooms in Cassidy's house. Ya think now ya won't, but ya will.

CARTHAGE Ya always had a high opinion of yourself. Aye, I'll remember ya from time to time. I'll remember ya sittin' at the kitchen table drinkin' till all hours and I'll remember the sound of the back door closin' as ya escaped for another night roamin' the bog.

HESTER The drinkin' came after, long after you put it into your mind to love me. If I had some man to talk to,
I mightn't have drunk so hard, some man to roam the bog with me, some man to take away a tiny piece of this guilt I carry with me, but ya never would.

CARTHAGE Seems I done nothin' right. Did I not?

HESTER You want to glaze lessons for your new bride. No, CARTHAGE, ya done nothin' right, your bull-headed pride and economy and painful advancement never moved me. What I wanted was some man to look me in the eye and know I was understood and not judged. You thought I had no right to ax for that. Maybe I hadn't, but the way ya used to judge me — didn't it ever occur to ya, that however harshly ya judged me, I judged meself harsher. Couldn't ya ever see that?

CARTHAGE I'm takin' Josie, Hester. I'm takin' her off of ya. It's plain as day to everyone 'cept yourself ya can't look after her. If you're wise ya'll love it at that and not take us muckin' through the courts. I'll let ya see her from time to time.

HESTER Take her then, take her, ya've taken everythin' else. In me stupidity I thought ya'd love me Josie.
I should've known ya always meant to take her too.

Enter CAROLINE with a bottle of wine.

CAROLINE (To CARTHAGE) Oh, this is where ya are.

CARTHAGE She's after burnin' all the livestock, the house, the sheds in ruins. I'm away up there now to see what can be salvaged. G'wan back home, I'll be there in a while.

And exit CARTHAGE.

CAROLINE Monica said ya wanted wine, I opened it for ya.

HESTER Take more than wine to free me from this place.
Take some kind of dark sprung miracle. (Takes the wine)

CARTHAGE (Coming back) Caroline, come on, come on, I don't want ya around her.

HESTER G'wan back to your weddin' like CARTHAGE says.

CAROLINE goes to exit, stops.

CAROLINE I just wanted to say —

HESTER What? Ya just wanted to say what?

CAROLINE Nothin' — Only I'll be very good to Josie whenever she stays with us.
HESTER Will ya now?
CAROLINE I won't let her out of me sight — I'll go everywhere with her — protect her from things — That's all.

Goes to exit.

HESTER Didn't ya enjoy your big weddin' day, Caroline?
CAROLINE No, I didn't — Everywan too loud and frantic — and when ya turned up in that weddin' dress, knew it should've been you — and Daddy drinkin' too much and shoutin', and Carthage gone away in himself, just watchin' it all like it had nothin' to do with him, and everywan laughin' in' behind me back and pityin' me — When me mother was alive, I used go into the sick room to talk to her and she used take me into the bed beside her and she'd describe for me me weddin' day. Of how she'd be there with a big hat on her and so proud. And the weddin' was goin' to be in this big ballroom with a fountain of mermaids in the middle, instead of Daddy's idea of havin' the do at home like his own weddin' — None of it was how it was meant to be, none of it.

HESTER Nothin' ever is, Caroline. Nothin', I've been a long time wishin' over me mother too. For too long now I've imagined her comin' towards me across the Bog of Cats and she would find me here standin' strong. She would see me life was com- plete, that I had Carthage and Josie and me own house. I so much wanted her to see that I had flourished without her and maybe then I could forgive her — Caroline, he's takin' Josie from me.

CAROLINE He's not, he wouldn't do that, Hester.
HESTER He's just been here tellin' me.
CAROLINE I won't let him, I'll talk to him, I'll stand up for ya on that account.
HESTER Ya never stood up for nothin' yet, I doubt ya'll stand up for me. Anyway, they won't listen to ya.

You're only a little china bit of a girl. I could break ya asisy as a lay cup or a wine glass. But I won't. Ya know why? Because I knew ya when ya were Josie's age, a scrawny little thing that hung on the scraps of my affection. Anyway, no need to break ya, you were broke a long while back.

CAROLINE I wanted to be a kindergarten teacher or a air hostess or a beautician.

Stands there, lost-looking.

HESTER G'wan back to your weddin' and lave me be.
CAROLINE I promise ya I'll do everythin' I can about Josie.
HESTER (Softly) G'wan, G'wan.

Exit CAROLINE. HESTER stands there alone, takes a drink, goes into the caravan, comes out with a knife. She tests it for sharpness, teaser it across her throat, shivers.

Come on, ya done itaisy enough to another, now it's your own turn.

Bares her throat, ready to do it. Enter JOSIE running, stops, sees HESTER with the knife poised.

JOSIE Mam — What's that ya've got there?
HESTER (Steps) Just an auld fishin' knife, Josie, I've had this years.

JOSIE And what are ya doin' with it?
HESTER Nothin', Josie, nothin'.

JOSIE I came to say goodbye, we'll be goin' soon. (Kisses HESTER)

HESTER Goodbye, sweetheart — Josie, ya won't see me again now.

JOSIE I will so. I'm only goin' on a honeymoon.

HESTER No, Josie, ya won't see me again because I'm goin' away too.

JOSIE Where?
HESTER So, ya can never return from.

JOSIE And where’s that?

HESTER Never mind. I only wanted to tell ya goodbye.

JOSIE That’s all.

HESTER Well, can I go with ya?

JOSIE No, ya can’t.

HESTER Ah, Mam, I want to be where you’ll be.

JOSIE Well, ya can’t, because wance ya go there ya can never come back.

HESTER I wouldn’t want to if you’re not here, Mam.

HESTER You’re just bein’ contrary now. Don’t ya want to be with your Daddy and grow up big and lovely and full of advantages they tell me I have not the power to give ya.

JOSIE Mam, I’d be watchin’ for ya all the time ‘long the Bog of Cats. I’d be hopin’ and waitin’ and prayin’ for ya to return.

HESTER Don’t be sayin’ those things to me now.

JOSIE Just take me with ya, Mam.

_Puts her arms around Hester._

HESTER No, ya don’t understand. Go away, get away from me, g’wan now, run away from me quickly now.

JOSIE (Struggling to stay in contact with Hester) No, Mam, stop! I’m goin’ with ya!

HESTER Would ya let go!

JOSIE (Frantic) No, Mam. Please!

HESTER Alright, alright! Shh! (Picks her up) It’s alright, I’ll take ya with me, I won’t have ya as I was, waitin’ a lifetime for somewan to return, because they don’t, Josie, they don’t. It’s alright. Close your eyes.

JOSIE closes her eyes.

Are they closed tight?

JOSIE Yeah.

HESTER cuts Josie’s throat in one savage movement.

JOSIE (Softly) Mam — Mam —

_And Josie dies in her arms._

HESTER (Whispers) It’s because ya wanted to come, Josie.

_Begins to wail. Enter the Catwoman._

CATWOMAN Hester, what is it? What is it?

HESTER Oh, Catwoman, I knew somethin’ terrible’d happen, I never thought it’d be this.

_Continues wailing._

CATWOMAN What have ya done, Hester? Have ya harmed yourself?

HESTER No, not meself and yes meself.

CATWOMAN (Comes over, feels around Hester, feels Josie) Not Josie, Hester? Not Josie? Lord on high, Hester, not the child. I thought yourself, maybe, or Carthage, but never the child.

_Runs to the edge of the stage shouting._

Help, somewan, help! Hester Swan’s after butcherin’ the child! Help!

_HESTER walks around demented with Josie. Enter Carthage running._

CARTHAGE What is it, Catwoman? Hester? What’s wrong with Josie? There’s blood all over her.

HESTER Lave off, you. Lave off. I warned ya and I told ya, would ya listen, what’ve I done, what’ve I done?

_The others drift on in ones and twos._
CARTHAGE  Give her to me!
MONICA  Sweet Jesus, Hester —
CARTHAGE  Give her to me! Will somewan go and get some man. You've killed her, ya've killed her.
HESTER  Yees all thought I was just goin' to walk away and lave her at yeer mercy. I almost did. But she's mine and I wouldn't have her waste her life dreamin' about me and yees thwartin' her with black stories against me.
CARTHAGE  You're a savage!

Enter the GHOST FANCIER. HESTER sees him, the others don't. He picks up the fishing knife.

HESTER  You're late, ya came too late.
CARTHAGE  What's she sayin'? What? Give her to me, come on now.

Takes Josie off HESTER.

HESTER  Ya won't forget me now, Carthage, and when all of this is over or half remembered and ya think ya've almost forgotten me again, take a walk along the Bog of Cats and wait for a purlin' wind through your hair or a soft breath be your ear or a rustle behind ya. That'll be me and Josie ghostin' ya.

She walks towards the GHOST FANCIER.

Take me away, take me away from here.
GF  Alright, my lovely.

They go into a death dance with the fishing knife, which ends plunged into HESTER's heart. She falls to the ground.

HESTER  (Whispers as she dies) Mam — Mam —
MONICA  goes over to her after a while.

Songs of Josie Swane

BY THE BOG OF CATS

By the Bog of Cats I finally learned false from true,
Learned too late that it was you and only you
Left me sore, a heart brimfull of rue
By the Bog of Cats in the darkling dew.

By the Bog of Cats I dreamed a dream of wooing,
I heard your clear voice to me a-calling
That I must go though it be my undoing.
By the Bog of Cats I'll stay no more a-rueing.

To the Bog of Cats I one day will return,
In mortal form or in ghostly form,
And I will find you there and there with you sojourn,
Forever by the Bog of Cats, my darling one.

---

THE BLACK SWAN

I know where a black swan sleeps
On the bank of grey water,
Hidden in a nest of leaves
So none can disturb her.

I have lain outside her lair,
My hand upon her wing,
And I have whispered to her
And of my sorrows sung.

I wish I was a black swan
And could fly away from here,
But I am Josie Swane,
Without wings, without care.
